The Tragedy of Being a “Bilam” [A Super*Success]

I'm overjoyed because: *I'm poor *I'm single *ugly *dysfunctional *A depressive type *from a broken home *always coming late *a sloppy type *a loner with few friends *lacking social skills *unpopular in the family *weak in learning *too cool *too serious *always making mistakes *always saying the wrong thing *not capable *not respected *inappropriate *full of anxiety *loads of unwanted issues *too much Ga'ava *too much Anava [and people take advantage of me] *I'm always ignored *I'm overweight *I have impulsiveness *addictions *chronic jealousies *uncontrollable lusts *an angry nature *too sensitive *getting old *a weak disposition *physical weaknesses *disease, Rachmana Litzlan *no Parnasa *bipolar *ADHD *OCD *all kinds of mental and/or physical issues Rachmana Litzlan etc. etc. עד אין שיעור the list goes on and on.

These are all Min HaShamayim, and are all for the good. Each person has the perfect Chisaron that he needs for his Shleimus. Either to tolerate or to overcome, partially or completely. [You need a Rebbe and plenty of Tefila to know how to deal with your personal challenge]. For good reason, Tanach and Chazal are loaded with stories of even our greatest Tzadikim who suffered from all kinds of Ruchaniyus and Gashmiyus difficulties; they are examples for all of us. Calm down and be happy! We are in Hashem's hands, and He knows exactly what He's doing!

All your life, you may be thirsting for a Yeshua in the area that Hashem made you weak. Often, it would be the worst thing for you if you got what you wanted. Here's a poor man, who finally became wealthy and comfortable. But with money comes a new Yetzer Hara which he never had before. This can ruin him Chas V'shalom, and send him straight to Gehinom Chas V'shalom.

The Goyim wanted a Navi, so they got Bilam. R' Chaim Kanievsky Zatzal says that Bilam actually started off being a nice person, but thanks to the lofty levels he reached, he became a super Rasha and Baal Ga'ava. When you “have it all” you have zero, because being a Baal Ga'ava means an express ticket to the worst Gehinom, Rachmana Litzlan. Moshe Rabeinu was unusual; he had everything, yet he gave Hashem the credit, and he became the Anav Mi'kol Adam.

People who are M'kabel Yissurim B'ahavah are Zoche to tremendous Tikkunim for their Neshama. The Zechus is priceless, and many other Yidden benefit from one Yid's Kabbolas Yissurim B'ahavah. Truly accepting Yissurim with your whole heart [as best as you can] can be a Segula to quickly rid yourself of them, B'eزز Hashem.

Is Your Connection with Hashem Temporary or Permanent?

Rashi says ויקר is a Lashon of: עראי וטומאה short-term and Tum'ah. Bilam's connection with Hashem is only temporary, whereas by Moshe it says ויקרא a permanent loyal connection.

We need to spend as much time as possible with Hashem, Who is: כל ההצלחות שבועולם מקור the source of all the Hatzluchos in the world, and less and less time trying to impress people, who have no real Koach over you.

A person should always daven that his involvement with Hashem should be more and more dominant, and not to be so heavily involved in wondering what people think of him. To do as many “Pratim” as possible, and not to be afraid of a Basar V'dam, who is truly zero compared to Hashem.

It is recommended to have a set time to schmooze and thank Hashem (in English!) and to beg Him to help you make Him your main Chavrusa (ידיד נפש אב הרחמן) close Friend and loving Father) instead of being similar to Bilam, Chas V'shalom, who made Hashem secondary, Rachmana Litzlan, and the Kavod he received from humans his #1 concern, Rachmana Litzlan! If you do this, you will become a super *Mutzlach!

When you see others [or yourself] who have Yissurim, you may often look down at them. It may seem there's something wrong with them, or they are being punished for some Aveira. But Shlomo HaMelech calls them privileged people. The Chofetz Chaim once encouraged a Bachur to do a Shidduch with a girl, since her father was a Baal Yissurim. The Chofetz Chaim lived with the Emes, without being affected the way Goyim think, or by Daas Baalei Battim the opposite of Daas Torah.

Strive to Have Tolerance for Imperfection and for When Things Don't Go Your Way

Learning Shaar HaK'niya was #1 in Novardok. Hachna'a will save you from nervousness and impatience. You'll be able to tolerate those traffic jams, all those unwanted people, and your own mistakes and failures. The Germans were famous for "being on time" and being M'sudar'dik organized and their perfect workmanship etc. Look how much Ga'ava "being perfect" can produce! And Sedom was a perfect country: כְּגַן ה' לְךָ יֵיטֵב like Gan Eden.

So thank Hashem for all your shortcomings! [But don't stop trying to improve!] Say: I love being "Mr. Not Perfect". It causes me to have so much less Ga'ava in my life! Better more Anava with less Ga'ava, than to be a Tzaddik with Ga'ava. [Chovos Halvavos].

Hachna'a is closely related to Bitachon, since it brings to Menucha, which is the foundation of Bitachon. [Chovos Halvavos]. An Anav is a relaxed person who has an easier time tolerating difficult situations and difficult people. He has Menucha and Bitachon. He knows that Hashem is in charge, and everything is for the good, even when he doesn't understand.

Novardok

R' Yitzchok Orlansky Zatzal was once walking in the street, and he tripped and almost fell; but he caught himself before he could fall. He made a remark that the falling would have been Gevaldig for him, since it's Yissurim which has tremendous Kapara value. People don't live with these thoughts, and it is a severe loss for them.

A Baal Mussar lives with Chazal, who say that every tiny inconvenience is real Yissurim and is a great Kapara. You need to thank Hashem for these ongoing tiny daily Yissurim, and then you Mamash lose your sins, and spare yourself more serious Yissurim, like a trip to the hospital, Chas V'shalom, and even from the worst Gehinom.

It is a Bracha to be forgetful, or to be delayed in traffic, or to have a person in your life who hurts you regularly. Such a person is: רֹאֵה פְּנֵי גֵהֵנוֹם not going to suffer in Gehinom, providing you always thank for those Yissurim. Those who live with Chazal, like Novardokers did, are truly happy people; especially if they learned the appropriate Mussar and they keep repeating how: יִסְוְרִים מְמַרְקִים: Yissurim cleanse your soul from all your sins. The rest of the world lets everything go over their heads. They lose tons, and they live an empty life compared to the real Baalei Mussar.

There was a Rebbe in Bais Shraga of Monsey who was a Novardoker, and his name was R' Gendel Zatzal. His wife wasn't well, and he had to run the whole house himself. His house was spotless. He did everything B'simcha, like a true Novardoker who sees every part of his life to be perfect and never complains against Hashem. They say that he would learn three hours of Mussar before davening. This is the secret of success. He was also a big Talmid Chochochom.

R' Yaakov Koppel Pasternak Zatzal was a Novardoker who was a Rav in Kensington. A typical fearless Novardoker, he was very smiley and friendly. He had loads of serious personal Yissurim, yet he was total Simcha, and would dance at Chasuna's like a young Bachur.

He told me that the long hours of Limud HaMussar that he had, saved his life. He said to me: כָּל זְמַן שְׂאֵתָהּ כָּל זְמַן שְׂאֵתָהּ (a person who is drowning in the ocean, while he holds on to the raft, he's saved). While you keep learning Mussar you'll be okay. As soon you stop, you're in trouble, Chas V'shalom. Both these people were strong personalities; nice, but not pushovers.
